SUCCESSFUL

Was the Parent-Teacher Entertainment Last Evening at the High School Building.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the First District school held an open session in the auditorium of the high school building last night at 7:30 o'clock. A large and highly entertained audience was present. The program was spicy, varied and short, winding up with a buffet luncheon served by Caterer Traxel, who knows how. The Maysville Saxophone Trio furnished delightful music. The high school boys and girls danced and sang most charmingly.

Those faithful workers, who have this cause in hand, Mrs. George T. Barbour, Mrs. Clarke Rogers, Miss Lottie Perry and their assistant, certainly deserve help, encouragement and commendations. The money from this entertainment goes towards furnishing a lunch each day for the pupils.

WASHINGTON'S SINS.

In a Washington birthday address Champ Clark, Speaker of the House, made the following statement:

"Somebody may object that Washington occasionally drank a mint-julep, bet on a horse race, danced the Virginia reel and at Monmouth swore because Charles Lee spoiled the plan of battle by retreating when ordered to charge," the Speaker said, "but we must judge men by the manners and customs of the times in which they lived and not by those of our times. In Washington's day nearly all men drank mint-juleps, occasionally danced, bet and swore without any consciousness of sin. Washington was thoroughly human and no doubt sometimes sinned. I am glad he did sometimes sin, for it shows we belong to the same breed that he did which is a great honor to the rest of us."

Commenting on this paragraph, the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch says that "there were better men and less crookedness before the business of being my brother's keeper enlisted the serried ranks of general reformers."

It is curious, and also highly interesting, to note how eagerly the weakness of great men is seized upon to bolster up the cause of laxity. Mr. Clark says, "I am glad Washington did sometimes sin," and the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch chimes in with a fling at what it terms "general reformers."

The company that assembles under the banner of sin and misery is almost countless, embracing probably at one time or another every human being on earth. But the members of this company are not always alike.

A vast number of them are glad that others fail. In the downfall of their fellow men, they have peculiar comfort. In the upbuilding of their fellow men they have bitterness of spirit and an endless array of splotenic ideas.

A vast number of others are glad when men succeed. They rejoice over beauty and character, exult in the advancement of human opportunities, and believe in the growth of purity and goodness.

Between these two factions, if such we may call them, there is a wide difference. Every man and every newspaper can enroll himself or itself for one side or the other. If he be glad that others sin, he will rejoice because of the misery that we all endure. If he grieve that others sin, and believe that men can work sincerely for righteousness, he will glory in the goodness and virtue and love that in reality exist all around him.—Roanoke (Va.) World-News.

CUMMINS AND PROHIBITION.

Cummins for President; Iowa for prohibition; Cummins for national prohibition. So far so good. Now we shall see how much farther the favorite son can go. It is already clear, however, that the temperance question is going to play a leading part in the next Presidential contest, and the candidate who side-steps will share the fate of Hancock, who called the tariff a local issue, or of Parker, who took the nomination and then kicked away the platform.—Philadelphia Ledger.

DON'T EVEN THINK WAR.

Talk about anything and everything but war. No discussion of war problems ever makes a convert. Much foolish passion can be held in check by side-stepping the European tragedy. In such affairs it should be remembered that—

"Of problems there are many kinds;
And many men and many minds;
So each a different answer finds,
And contradicts his neighbor."

Carter Harrison and Theodore Roosevelt have not much in common politically, but they ought to be able to get together on the proposition that a pitcher may go to the well once too often.—Kansas City Journal.

POORLY-PAID PUBLIC LIFE.

If every lawyer in the country had an annual income equal to the amount of money paid annually, directly or indirectly, to the attorneys-at-law in the Sixty-third Congress, fortunately just ended, the annual income of lawyers would aggregate at least $1,250,000,000. The direct cost to the country, in money paid out, of the members of the Senate and House of Representatives is more than $7,000,000 a year. That sum does not include the more than $5,000,000 spent for public printing and binding, representing in large measure so-called activities of members of the two Houses. It includes salaries, mileage, payments to members' clerks and other perquisites, amounting in all to about $10,000 each a year. If the Sixty-third Congress 289, or 66 per cent, of the 434 members of the House of Representatives, and 75, or 79 per cent, of the 96 members of the Senate, were graduates of the law. Their aggregate salaries were $2,730,000, and other payments to or for them, which a practicing attorney would include in his income, aggregated $910,000, a total of $3,640,000. How many of the 364 graduates of the law in Congress could have possibly earned in legitimate practice of their profession $10,000 a year? Else why are they willing to draw Congressional salaries and perquisites? Yet President Hadley of Yale University, thinks there is a possibility of men starving in public life.—Baltimore Record.

FOR DIVERSIFICATION IN TEXAS.

More than 10,000 entries have already been made in the prize crop and gardening contests of the Texas Industrial Congress for the year 1915. The contestants live in all portions of the state, and have enrolled of their own initiative in many cases, and in other cases have joined in the work of the congress upon the presentation of its aims by a representative or by a citizen of the community.

YOU MAY KILL PEOPLE, BUT NOT CITIES.

"A city," says the London Chronicle, "is hard to kill;" and instances the fact that Paris has survived eight sieges, ten famines, two plagues and one fire that devastated it. Rome has been over-swept with pestilence ten times, has been burned twice, and six times has been starved into surrender. Constantinople has suffered nine conflagrations, four plagues and five sieges.

MANY GOOD BOYS IN THE LAND.

At the International Sunday School Convention, held in Chicago last June, Marion Lawrence, the general secretary, reported that there were now in North America 175,685 Sunday schools with 1,690,739 officers and teachers, and 16,750,297 pupils, making a total of 18,441,036.

THE MODERN PIRATE.

Sailing the high seas has become as perilous again as it was in the exciting days of Captain Kidd. To sink a merchant ship with all on board was piracy then. Now it is civilized warfare. Thus the world progresses—like a crab.—Portland Oregonian.

Man's Trouble.

"West Virginia's dryness hit man harder than it hit woman," said Mayor Kirk of Wheeling. "Woman is more temperate than man. She never has any trouble through drink."

Mr. Kirk smiled and added:
"Woman is the weaker vessel, but it's man who must oftenest be bailed out."

Trapped.

They were quarreling. "Well, you can't say I ran after you," said the wife.

"Neither does a mouse trap run after the mice, but it catches 'em just the same," replied the hubby.

It is the average woman's ambition nowadays to dress as well as her housemaid does.

Just Jokes

The Only Cure For Warts.

A miserable impostor is said to be traveling over this country selling a receipt for taking off warts, whenever. Nobody knows the only way to take off a wart is to rub it with a potato which is afterwards to be buried by a red-headed colored man in the northeast corner of a graveyard at midnight in the dark of the moon. As the potato decays the wart will disappear.—Beth any (Mo.) Clipper.

FOR DEAR TEACHER.

Dear teacher, are your arithmetic classes scattered all through the book, no two pupils in the same place? If they are, it is a bad knock on your teaching ability.

What does a superintendent think of a teacher who never attends a teachers' meeting? Will the superintendent be likely to work himself into nervous prostration to get that teacher a school or a certificate?

The easiest way on earth for a teacher to fail to make a success is to slight her job. Any one can be reasonably successful if willing to work hard and full time, but the school room is, most emphatically, no place for a lazy person.

BAD FOR THE TEETH.

Misfortune never comes singly. Both Elizabethtown dentists leaving town for several weeks, left booze as the only convenient remedy for toothache, and how a dozen or more bootleggers have been forced to suspend operations.

AS TO KNOWLEDGE.

In a country neighborhood a highly educated person is one who can secure a certificate permitting him to teach school.—Fairmount West Virginian.

We know of a great many city neighborhoods where they would be hard put to find a person with so much knowledge.—Parkersburg Sentinel.

And there will be found many liberally educated persons in every community who would be utterly unable to obtain such a certificate, or to make even a fairly creditable showing in the ordinary teachers' examination.—Huntington Advertiser.

We venture to suggest that there are many persons whose heads are crammed with knowledge who would not make good teachers even if this burden of knowledge obtained for them No. 1 certificates. The same rule applies to the liberally educated."

The mere act of teaching is an art in itself and knowledge is merely an adjunct, although a very necessary one.

Observation and experience have shown that some very highly educated persons have not made brilliantly successful teachers; while others, not so liberally equipped, had more deftness and success in the vocation, because they had the gift.

No mechanical examination, as these examinations must be—can be relied upon absolutely to disclose the teacher, although they go a long way, and are the best practical way we have yet discovered by which to test the qualifications of the teacher.

However, one must admit the pertinency of the observation of the Fairmont West Virginian, which newspaper started all this commotion, that "in a country neighborhood a highly educated person is one who can secure a certificate permitting him to teach school," expressing the fact that the teacher's certificate in itself is accepted as a prima facie evidence of knowledge.—Charleston Mail.

FAST AND PRESENT.

SUPREME COURT ANNULS TWO-CENT PASSENGER RATE.

Washington, March 8.—The West Virginia two-cent passenger rate law was annulled as unconstitutional today by the Supreme Court as to the business of the Norfolk and Western railroad company.

In announcing the court's decision, Justice Hughes said in part as follows: "It is clear that by the reduction in rates, the company is forced to carry passengers, if not at or below cost, with merely a nominal regard, considering the volume of the traffic affected. We find the state exceeded its powers in imposing it."

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

Washington, March 9.—A warning has been sent by the United States to General Carranza, demanding an improvement of conditions in Mexico City. Diplomats familiar with the contents of the note which American Consul Silliman has been instructed to present to General Carranza interpret it as an entire change of policy on the part of the Washington government toward the Mexican situation.

The communication was drafted after conferences between President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Counselor Lansing. It contained the strongest representations that ever have been made to Carranza and indicates that the American government is losing patience with his indifference to the objectionable acts of General Obregon at Mexico City.

"The grand tax duplicate of the state of Ohio for 1914 amounts to $7,558,173,818, as compared to $6,719,068,969 the previous year; an increase of $839,104,849, according to official figures made public by the Tax Commission of Ohio."

THAW TRIAL IN PROGRESS.
